My focus is clear, practical advice that helps you move your business forward confidently

Cole is an associate in the Business Law group at McLeod Law. His practice focuses on delivering practical, business-oriented legal advice tailored to each client's needs. Called to the bar in 2023, Cole brings experience from both private practice and in-house roles, offering a balanced, solutions-focused perspective.

Outside of work, you can find Cole lending a hand on the ranches of close family friends, whether that means pitching in with chores, working with livestock, or tackling whatever needs to be done. He also enjoys the outdoors through a wide manner of activities including hunting, fishing, camping, golfing, and snowboarding. He is also an enthusiastic hockey player and is always willing to join a late-night skate or team event.
